Fall Back?

A Message from KGLP's Station Manager

Yes, another Gallup Public Radio board election is coming up, and we hope that our members, those who over the last year have contributed time, money, cars, art, or other resources to the cause of public radio in Gallup, will nominate someone, or just return a ballot, located on Page 3 of this publication.

As mentioned in the board update, below, Fitz Sargent and Susan Macias are on that ballot, as is KGLP show host Lester Kien, a former board member who has just stepped back up to the plate.

News from the Board

Board Update

Gallup Public Radio's long-time board members Gerald O'Hara and Mildred Dunning gave up their chairs early in 2015, with Lynn Anner-Bolieu filling in for much of this year. Lynn recently left the board, as well, and so the next Board Election, scheduled to conclude on January 11, will have room for two additional nominees to join Fitz Sargent on the ballot,

Anyone donating any amount, upon request, can receive KGLP's Logo Pen and/or Bumper Sticker. $100 or more: You can request a Be Sargent glass panel (see them all on Page 6) along with Susan Macias, who recently agreed to complete the term of Sam MacBride, who also resigned recently.

Susan has agreed to serve as board secretary.

Richard Goshorn, a new UNMG Appointee to the board (and UNMG's CFO) has agreed to serve as Treasurer.

Raymond Calderon still serves

January 11, 2016 – that's when Gallup Public Radio's first board meeting of next year, and the next annual members meeting, will take place. The board first meets at 5:30pm, that 2nd Monday of the month, and then at 7pm, during the annual members meeting, the votes for the new term will be tallied.

Electronic ballots are also available – Gallup Public Radio Members may email their selections to manager@kglp.org.

In other news, many of us in the area will be "Falling Back" at two O'Clock, early on the Sunday morning of November first, probably setting our timepieces back one hour that Saturday night before we go to bed (continued on page 8)

as board president, with Carol Sarath serving as vice-president after adding duties as interim treasurer for much of the year, following Mildred Dunning's departure (Millie has not completely left the organization, now serving as one of our new Community Advisory Board Members.)

Fall 2015 Fundraiser Premiums and Gifts

Anyone who contributes is welcome to come by KGLP to pick up such items as our new KGLP logo pens, a bumper sticker, soda cozy, or mini-flying disc, while supplies last.

Anyone donating $25 (or hopefully more) may come by the station to pick up a 4 ounce jar of fresh jelly direct from the Prickly Pear fields of Gallup, New Mexico (this in addition to the above gifts.) Anyone donating $25 or more may also come by the station to select one or two items, such as CD's featuring jazz, world music, and more. You might also pick up a copy of former Gallup resident Larry Larason's young adult novel, "The Ghost on the Moki Steps", informed by Larry's knowledge of the region, or pick out another item.

$100 qualifies you to pick up one of Be Sargent's ten 10" x 16" indoor/outdoor tempered, beveled, weathered, recycled glass pane artworks, including recycled concrete bases. Seven of these pieces are abstract "torsos". Three are abstract "Fat Lines". Here are photos of these pieces:

These pieces are designed to cast shadows on walls or other surfaces (outside, they might serve as a sundial of sorts!) Fingerprints can be removed with a damp cloth, though you should not clean the painted lines, especially with solvents! - you should specify which art you would like to reserve when making your pledge, for pickup by October 23rd (for general information, you may visit besargent.com). For $250, you may choose from several Be Sargent landscapes, while they last. (Photos will be posted soon at KGLP.org) $200 or more also gets a Day Sponsorship. You must request any of Be's art when pledging, donating, or soon after, since they may go fast!

(although many of our devices do this automatically.)

KGLP hopes NOT to “Fall Back” in another way: We don’t want to repeat the low level of pledges and donations received this past Spring! For those of you who gave over the last year, Thank You! We made it through FY2015.

Radio listening habits are changing, largely due to an increasing variety of online and offline media options. Those changes are reflected in nationwide trends toward diminishing pledges during on-air fundraising campaigns, which are largely conducted to reach those listeners new to a particular public radio station, typically owned and operated by non-commercial community organizations or colleges.

KGLP is no exception to this trend. Last Spring, our on-air fundraiser resulted in a total of about $8,000 actually donated, the lowest level of pledges since the Fall of 2010, when a similar result was observed. Over the last year, the percentage of our funding from pledges dropped from 12 percent of all funding sources down to 10 percent, even with an increasing number of monthly donations from our Sustaining

Members, who I want to thank for continuing or in some cases starting that new trend of monthly giving.

We can never overstate how much we appreciate those of you who consistently donate each year, and sometimes twice per year. If that is what works best for you, we hope that you can continue with your support in whatever fashion is most appealing to you.

Ultimately, our hope is that more of you will be willing to join the ranks of KGLP’s Sustaining Members by setting up monthly donations through PayPal or your local banks, many of which have bill pay options. Call us! 505-863-7626.

For anyone who may be reading this who has NEVER given to public or community radio, consider that nationally, only about ten percent of people listening to public radio actually have given anything, ever, to help support their local station. I think that KGLP may have a little more than ten percent of our listeners contributing at least once per year, twice a year, or every couple of years, so thank you all, so much, for keeping Gallup Public Radio on the air! - Rachel
