Spring Fundraiser On-Air April 11th through the 16th

Silent Spring:

Cranking up for Earth Day!

(Another silent pledge drive, with little live on-air pitching)

A Message from KGLP's Station Manager

"Studio B", is a simple recording room that has taken some of the pressure off of "Studio A", our on-air studio, giving staff extra work space, and allowing students in my UNMG course, "Performance for Radio and TV", to hit their marks with teleprompter and green screen

KGLP's New "Studio B", now used for recording. Eventually, we hope to fund a full-fledged on-air studio, interchangeable with "Studio A", our only current on-air studio.

technology, as well as improvising. The point is that "Studio B" has become a fairly flexible workbench that will help us finalize a design for what we hope will become capable of live broadcast in a couple of years. Recently, we cleaned up our audio processing, which was not optimized for our current program schedule, and this change presumably has reduced the incidence of abrupt, inappropriate changes in audio level, hopefully improving your listening experience.

Board Update

Lynn Anner-Bolieu and Sam MacBride left the board in 2015, with Susan Macias then appointed to complete a term.

In January, Susan, Lester Kien, Terrence Sloan, and Fitz Sargent were elected to 2-year terms, through 2017.

Terms for board members
Eileen Barrett, Carol Sarath,

Raymond Calderon, and Colin Gershon run through 2016.

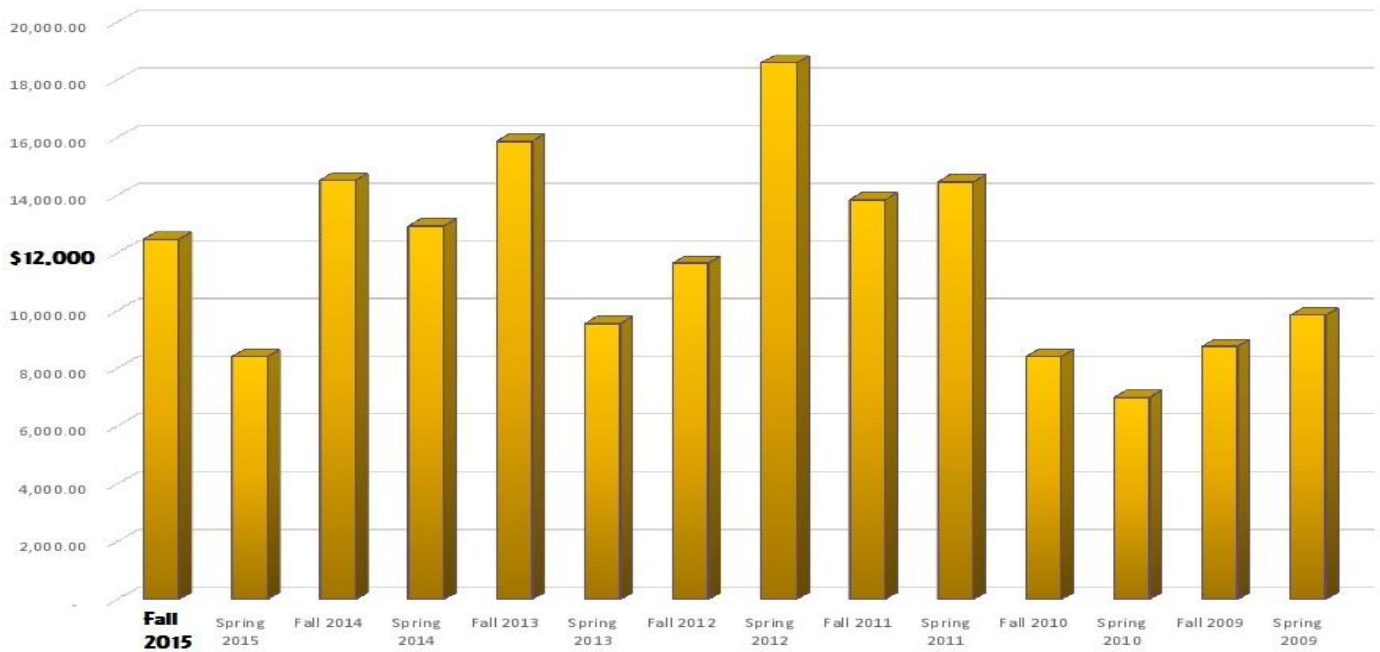

Upcoming board meetings at UNMG are this Monday, April 11th, 5:30-7pm, in KGLP's basement studios, Gurley Hall, B-212, and then on Monday, May 9th, 5:30-7pm in Gurley Hall, 1216a (the Executive Director's first floor Conference Room.)

Susan Macias has taken on the role of board secretary, with UNMG appointee and campus CFO Rick Goshorn now serving as Gallup Public Radio's board treasurer, a position that former board member Mildred Dunning fulfilled for some years, with Carol Sarath then acting as interim until 2016.

You may have noticed weather reports on KGLP during Morning Edition and All Things Considered, thanks to Tom Trowbridge and Calvin Gleason. Tom, a journalist out of Santa Fe, also produces "Dateline New Mexico", which airs weekday mornings, usually at 6:45 and 8:45. Calvin is a local producer who has worked for Navajo Nation Broadcast Services in Window Rock.

The CD digitization project continues, with Strider Brown, Trey Chavez, and Ivah Benally loading our music library's collection into our automation system. CD storage is limited, with more music being released digitally, rather than on CD or vinyl, and so this is an important step for KGLP's future. Your donations help move this work along.

Since Earth Day will follow closely after our kickoff of the Spring 2016 membership campaign, we want to offer something appropriate for the season: An Eco-Powered radio with AM, FM, and Weather Alert bands, an LED flashlight component, charging with a USB cable, and, if you're not near a USB power source, a hand-crank generator (don't have a PC or other USB source? You can purchase an inexpensive A/C wall adapter as your USB power source, or again, just crank it up!) Once you've charged your radio, you can even use it to charge your cell phone or other mobile device via a USB power plug.

New KGLP donor/members or those who have not given to Gallup Public Radio in the past few years, can get one of these FR-1 radios with a donation of $50.

Renewing and sustaining members can get these for just $25 more than they gave in previous fundraisers (with a minimum total annual donation of $40 required.) Sustaining members need only make a one-time donation of $25 or more in order to reserve the radio for pickup.

We have a dozen on-hand at this writing, and can get more within a couple of weeks. You must reserve the radio when pledging or before picking one up at KGLP. If you can't come by KGLP within a few weeks after you make your contribution, we will consider requests to mail it.

We'll have artwork and other gifts, too: You can see all of the details on KGLP.org, in the "What's New" section, or follow the link to KGLP's Facebook page for updates.

Sincerely, Rachel Kaub, KGLP Station Manager
